PSRC Basics

The Puget Sound Regional Council (PSRC) develops policies and coordinates decisions about regional growth, transportation and economic development planning within King, Pierce, Snohomish and Kitsap counties. PSRC is composed of over 80 jurisdictions, including all four counties, cities and towns, ports, state and local transportation agencies and tribal governments within the region.

In Washington State, planning is done a little differently than other places. The Growth Management Act requires that cities, counties, and regional planning agencies coordinate and plan for expected growth. PSRC works with local counties and cities, and other partners, to create a regional plan that describes how the region can grow.

VISION 2050

VISION 2050 is a shared and integrated strategy for how and where the central Puget Sound region should grow. Population in the region has grown to 4.1 million, with more than 376,000 new residents added since 2010. More growth is coming. Forecasts show the region needs to plan for 1.8 million additional people and 1.2 million new jobs by 2050.

Most common response when PSRC asked residents

What is planning?

Planning is about people and making places where people want to live.

Live

Where do people live? In houses or apartments?
Close to work or school?

Work

Where do people work? What are their jobs? Where do students go to school?

Play

What do people do for fun?

Activity 1

Working in small groups, use the poster-size map, stickers, post-it notes, and markers provided to let us know what you think of your city! Mark things you love, dislike and want to see changed on the map.

Levels of Planning

Apartment Complex

Site

Site planning focuses on the layout of one project or development location. The plan outlines where buildings, trees and open space will be placed, and how the area is accessed by cars, bikes and pedestrians.

Arlington-Marysville MIC

Neighborhood

Neighborhood planning focuses on small areas within a city like neighborhoods, corridors, downtowns or station areas. These plans outline a vision for the future of the neighborhood.

City of Arlington

Municipal

Municipal planning focuses on a whole city. It establishes city-wide goals and policies, and determines how housing, office, retail and other uses are spread throughout the city.

Central Puget Sound Region

Regional

Regional planning focuses on an entire region, spanning multiple cities and counties. It establishes policies and goals that are shared among cities and counties. Regional plans also coordinate large scale projects like regional transit systems.

Activity 2

By 2050 an additional 1.8 million people and 1.2 million jobs will be added to the region. We want to hear where you think this growth should occur! Place Lego pieces on the map according to where you think new people and housing, jobs, and parks and open space should go.
